Running Order:

The exact running order will be fluid and dependent on conflicts, worker dogs, etc. Pre-entry counts are listed in the below email.

Class Order will be Master, Excellent, Advanced, Novice.

We will start with all levels of HD. Then, Interior/Exterior will be run back to back (if same level) with one judge. Buried/Container will be run back to back (if same level) with the other judge. Dogs will queue for two elements and then break (within reason) and queue for the other two elements. Please run your higher level elements first so we can move on to the lower levels. If you aren't sure where to go first, ask!

Wait-List & Pulled Entries:

We currently have a waitlist for these trials. If you need to pull you may receive a refund/credit as per the policy listed in the premium. We will NOT be substituting entries for handlers who do not check in, you will be marked as absent if you miss your runs and the class closes out. Written notice (email or in person) must be given by 7am on the morning of the trial for all pulled entries in order to be eligible for a refund. See the premium for more information on the pull & refund policies.

We will shut down the pre-trial wait-list at 11:59pm on Thursday. After that, if you are on the waitlist, you are welcome to show up the morning of the trial to see if there are any last minute pulls from Friday / after. It is not guaranteed that pulls will be able to be replaced by a waitlisted run. It is not guaranteed that there will be runs available for waitlisted dogs on the day of the show.

But What Time Will My Class Start?

We get a lot of questions on "when will my class start" for trials. We cannot give out times other than the start of the first class of the day. However, here is a way for you to estimate when your class MAY start running:

In the Regulations for AKC Scent Work (on the AKC website under "Scent Work" "Regulations Resources"), page 18 under Chapter 3 Section 22 it lists an estimated time per entry per class/level.

Above, we give entry counts as of the pre-entry closing along with the order the classes will run.

You can multiply out the estimated judging time per run x the entries in each class to get a rough estimate. However, please note that this doesn't include absent dogs, move-ups, day-of-show/late entries, judge breaks, lunch breaks, etc. And runs don't always last the "estimated" judging time per run. There are no refunds/credits/moves for missed runs. Calculate at your own risk!
